South African Post Office to assist Wish promotion 'Every Day is Black Friday'

The joint Business Rescue Practitioners, ('BRP's') of SAPO, Mr Anoosh Rooplal and Mr Juanito Damons are pleased to inform its customers that Wish, a global ecommerce platform will promote their 'Every Day is Black Friday campaign' through the usage of the Post Offices' branch network for the month of November.

This follows a partnership between SAPO and Wish which started in April 2021 whereby Wish' utilises the Post Office Branch network, for the processing and delivery of items to SAPO branch offices for South African buyers to collect.

Customers can follow the promotions on SAPO social media which include up to 40% discount and shipping discounts

About SAPO

SAPO is presently financially distressed and is unable to honour its financial obligations as and when they fall due. The BRP's were appointed on 10 July 2023. The appointment was subsequently approved by the Financial Sector Conduct Authority on 14 July 2023 and ratified by the majority of creditors on 24 July 2023.

The 2008 Companies Act sets out two goals or purposes for business rescue. The primary goal is to return the company to its solvent position, in other words, its assets exceeding its liabilities. However, if it is not possible for the company to continue to exist, then the secondary goal should be achieved, which is to provide the creditors and shareholders of the company with a better return than what would result from the immediate liquidation of the company.

SAPO provides traditional postal delivery services, which enables people, especially in remote and otherwise underserved areas to access communications and government services where they would otherwise be unable to do so. SAPO's services are not limited to traditional postal services. SAPO serves as the South African Postbank SOC Ltd ('Postbank') physical branch network. As one of the paying agents to Post Bank it assists in distributing social grants at some of its branches as well as distribution to beneficiaries of the Extended Public Works Programme that was initiated by the Department of Transport ; it delivers medication to those in need; and facilitates convenient renewal of motor vehicle registration.
